Brief Introduction and Activities of Korean Medical Library Association

Sung-Ha Lee

Executive Director, KMLA
and
Chief Librarian,
Yonsei University Medical Library
Seoul, Korea

I. Introduction

Korean Medical Library Association (KMLA) was established on June 18th, 1968 only with the members of five medical college libraries in Seoul. At the present time, a total of 94 organizations are associated in KMLA: that is, 25 medical college libraries, 57 hospital libraries, 4 institutional libraries, 7 pharmaceutical libraries and 5 associate members.

The primary goal of the KMLA is to (1) study advanced library sciences, (2) exchange the library materials including cooperation of mutual inter-library loan, (3) improve librarians quality, (4) promote friendship among the members, (5) hold academic meeting like seminars, workshops and so on and (6) make relationship with foreign organizations.

II. Activities

The activities carrying out through KMLA are actually as follows;

1. meetings

The official and academic meetings are annually held by KMLA in May and in November, respectively. All the planning and decisions of KMLA are conducted by the executive and research committees. The executive committee is held 8 times a year, and the research committee holding 4 times a year.

2. Education

The special lecture on medical terminology is open once per two years in order to qualify the medical librarians. The lectures has been done three times up to now.

Annual workshops for solving the actual problems of medical librarians and for learning new information on computer systems and general business are held once a year.

3. Publication

The Union Catalog of Biomedical Journals is published by KMLA once per five years, and its supplement is also issued once per two years. A total of seven volumes were issued up to the end of 1985. The Bulletin of KMLA Presenting the research and survey results performed by the members of KMLA was come up to volume 12 in 1985. In addition to those publications, Korean Index Medicus for 1982 through 1983 will be issued in coming May 1986, and the volume for 1984 through 1985 is under arrangement.

The Korean Index Medicus, which covers 120 kinds of Korean medical journals even including dental and nursing sciences, will be annually published there after.

4. Inter-Library Loan

Inter-Library loan is actively working among the members of KMLA by facsimile or mailing. The Xerox copies, retrospective searches and SDI searches of the references which have not been found in Korea were helped through National Australian Library under the support of World Health Organization (WHO). About 8,000 copies and more than 400 searches were yearly communicated with National Australian Library. Moreover, WHO has assigned the Yonsei University Medical Library (YUML) as National Focal Point in Korea, so that YUML is performing this international business for the members of KMLA. However, there are some problems that it has taken about three weeks even through two months to get the materials by mail, and that in case with Japanese libraries the charges are so expensive.

5. Data Base

Korean libraries are associated with DACOM-net service and utilizing the DIALOG and MEDLARS, a sort of American data bank, through satellite communication. There are also difficulties to use these data bases because of expensive charges.

6. Exchanges of additional journals

The member libraries have exchanged the additional journals each other through KMLA about twice a year, in order to add for missed volumes.

7. Relationship to other library associations

The KMLA has had the friendly relationship with the Japanese Medical Library Association (JMLA). The member librarians of two countries of two countries have been mutually attending the annual meetings each other and discussing the cooperative affairs. It is expecting to have relationships to other foreign associations.
